PRESS RELEASE FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

D&D Laboratory, LLC received ISO/IEC 17025:2017 accreditation on November 16, 2019.

D&D Laboratory is proud to announce that they have received accreditation from Perry Johnson Laboratory Accreditation, Inc. (PJLA) to ISO/IEC 17025:2017 General Requirements for Calibration and Testing Laboratories for their Kidney Dialysis water and dialysate testing laboratory.

According to Anna Arnett, Laboratory and Quality Manager, "The staff has worked above-and-beyond completing the extensive accreditation process which encompasses the quality system, testing protocols and competency of the technical staff. This ISO/IEC 17025:2017 Accreditation helps us continue to provide the highest quality testing services that our customers trust. Our experience in testing water and dialysate make us a valuable resource for technical advice on out-of-specification laboratory test results."

The laboratory is granted accreditation for Chemical and Microbiological Testing on the basis of the AAMI Guidelines.
